No letter should legally be considered directly from an incarcerated individual unless the letter is notarized due to the fact that I recently gave Michael Regan an extra stamp and envelope that's liable to have my fingerprints on it. I don't know who he plans on sending it to. That being said, whether or not this subsequent statement from me invalidates any guilty convictions made by any courtroom concerning written letters sent from an incarcerated individual is up to the judge(s) in question of the courtroom(s) with guilty convictions on the table revolving ^{around} unnotarized letters sent from an incarcerated setting. Kenny Webster was an employed corrections officer at Cattaraugus County Jail as of October 2023. He and I both went to Salamanca High School and learned handwriting from the same teachers.

I do not lie in court nor do I make false accusations. I am not a threat to society nor am I a public safety threat. I have not seen the guy from Massachusetts since May 2nd and he told me I would see him again at the end of May. I didn't. He asked me if I masturbate to the thought of Benjamin and/or Kertie while in an incarcerated state of being. I don't know what he wrote down as my response on his laptop. I do remember telling him that I am absolutely the author behind the Urban Dictionary definition of "Flex Off".

I am very happy for our nation's excellent sense of checks and balances regarding the fact that courts and the U.S. Bureau of Prisons operate separately.

Waleed Abughanem is here at Orleans County Jail telling everybody ever since his case was picked up from the lower courts by the feds into Vilardo's courtroom, his case is at a standstill because Vilardo is holding him here past his 18 months no probation locked plea deal's release date. Waleed Abughanem is offering extra food from the kitchen in exchange for the address and phone number on <http://www.uscourts.gov/judges-judgeships/judicial-conduct-disability> so he can file a complaint to the higher ups about Vilardo who he says is his judge as of 2024. Also Waleed complains that a lawyer named Jay Ovsioitch out of Rochester does not answer phone calls. I think that Wakeed's complaints against Vilardo are worth taking seriously since I know for a fact that Richard Greer has a case in Vilardo's courtroom and we still can't prove if it was even Richard Greer using his laptop to make international payments.

I am above all forms of retaliation against anybody who may be attempting any form of funny business in terms of this case. I am very happy to hear that ever since a criminal contempt inmate out of Sanford Church's courtroom named Brian had a recorded phone conversation with a employee who works for an attorney who unusually seems to be aware of who I am and that I am in the type of room I am in (for no reason on paper, might I add), he has established attorney-client privilege phone calls with that same woman who Brian says will be helping him appeal his recent sentence. Brian said this woman will be visiting him here at Orleans County Jail and that she is currently in a romantic relationship with every last officer here who is a nodary,

This court needs to start asking if Officer Ashbury/Ashberry's last name is spelled the first way or the second way because after I questioned him asking if it was him who spoke to Katie on the phone from this jail April 2024 and if it was him helping an inmate named Devin get Suboxone into the jail (he has since been caught), Officer Ashbury/Ashberry squinted at me and absolutely said he called the county sheriff on me (for no legitimate reason, might I add) and he tried writing me up for a non-existent jail handbook rule. Feel free to subpoena him and ask him.

This jail has yet to find out who sent a letter to a non-existent inmate named "Br. Tallywack" claiming Katie was coming here to bail out Benjamin. The 32 year old robbery inmate who is a porter here claims Benjamin astral projects to him every night demanding to know what I am saying about him. These claims are true, subpoena and ask them I am not mentally ill for saying so. Thank you for reading,
